Sierra Madre News To Change Ownership

By R. Robert Evans

A rumor that has consistently popped up every few months throughout the past 18½ years has finally become true . . . . The Sierra Madre News has been sold . . . R. Robert Evans, its publisher for the past 18¼ years is finally retiring.

The newspaper and job plant has been purchased by a group of persons that will be known as Newspaper Enterprises, a California General Partnership. The known executives are Jannene G. Reed, Donald Reed, Madelene Werstok and her husband who will take over active managership on Wednesday, September 24.

It has been a long and interesting ownership of Bob Evans, who although retiring he will not leave the City of Sierra Madre, but will join the ranks of the other Senior Citizens roaming about town taking up the valuable time of those attempting to make an honest living, being a thorn in the side of the City Administraton, and keeping an eye on the local police operations.

Being a learned printer, besides a publisher, Bob Evans will, when called upon, assist the new owners in whatever problems or assistance that they may need over the coming period of time, and he has agreed to keep "Carrot Top" alive, as long as the new publishers can cope with it.

Having reached the age of 68 on August 17 and not having had a vacation for the past 18½ years, some travel has been indicated, but mostly it will be short hours, rest and enjoyment of life's "December" hours will be the routine hoped to accomplish.

New and greater things are on the horizon for the Sierra Madre News, of which I will not attempt to disclose to you, but will leave that for the new operators to give you the facts as they hope to exploit them.

Over the past several months we have attempted to find a suitable successor, and picked this group for their talents, expertise and desire to further the newspaper along its life to the 100 mark . . . October 1, the Sierra Madre News will become 75 years of age; it will be the Diamond Anniversary, and it is fitting that new publishers should take over at this period of time, when the home stretch is started toward the 100th anniversary in 2005.

It is not with sadness that we turn over the publication to the new group, for he will remain to watch its progress in a city that he has dearly loved and figured that his life's work here has been completed. So as he bids — 'Adeu," he will be seeing you about town on the streets to check the city's pulse of the city"s operations.

Theer's an old story that says you can't kill a frog by dropping him in boiling water. He reacts so quickly to the sudden heat that he jumps out before he's hurt. But if you put him in cold water and then warm it up gradually, he never decides to jump till it's too late. By then he's cooked.

— CT —

Men are just as foolish. Take away their freedom overnight, and you've got a violent revolution. But steal it from them gradually (under the guise of "security," "peace" or "progress") and you can paralyze an entire generation.

— CT —

Look at the income tax. It started out at a harmless sounding one per cent. It would have been easy to jump out of water as tepid as this, but like the frog, we waited while it climbed ever higher. (Try jumping now).

— CT —

Worst of all, we never learn. Even today we can not believe that Medicare is the same warm water that will one day boil us in Socialized Medicine. We see no connection between farm price supports and Nationalized Agriculture. And if federal control of education we draw a parallel between subsidized teachers' pay and federal control of education, we are called "extremists."

— CT —

The tragedies of history are always repeated by those who refuse to learn them. To seek guidance from the past is not "turning the clock back" as we are so often told. It is merely a good way to keep out of hot water. I hope I have made my point clear.

— CT —

Now at this time of the year we feel that we must define the word Conscience . . . Conscience is that small inner voice which tells us that this year may be the year the Internal Revenue Service might check our return.

— CT —

Now a little story about Reverence . . . The high society lady was entertaining her bridge club one afternoon when the pattering of tiny feet was heard on the stairs. She raised her hand to the other ladies asking for silence. "Hush," she said softly, "The children have come to deliver their afternoon goodnight message. It always gives me such a feeding of reverence to hear them . . . . "Listen," there was a moment of silence, then shyly came a small voice from the hallway: "Mama, Willie found a bedbug."

— CT —

Having spent most of this month searching for legal deductions, issuing W-2 forms, paying employer's contributions, and preparing for income tax forms, and some ten other government forms, has left me little time for my own business, but I guess we are all in the same boat, and some of us without paddles.

— CT —

Maybe this next year we should join the new organization MOOB, since we already are full fledged members of the BOOB bunch, now comes the Mind Our Own Business bunch. This may prove to be an interesting group.

— CT —

The tremendous debates by opposition and proponents in a great many City matters of late brings to mind a portion of an article writen by John Stuart Hill "On Liberty," and we will set it down here and call it "Three arguments in behalf of 'taking counsel'."

— CT —

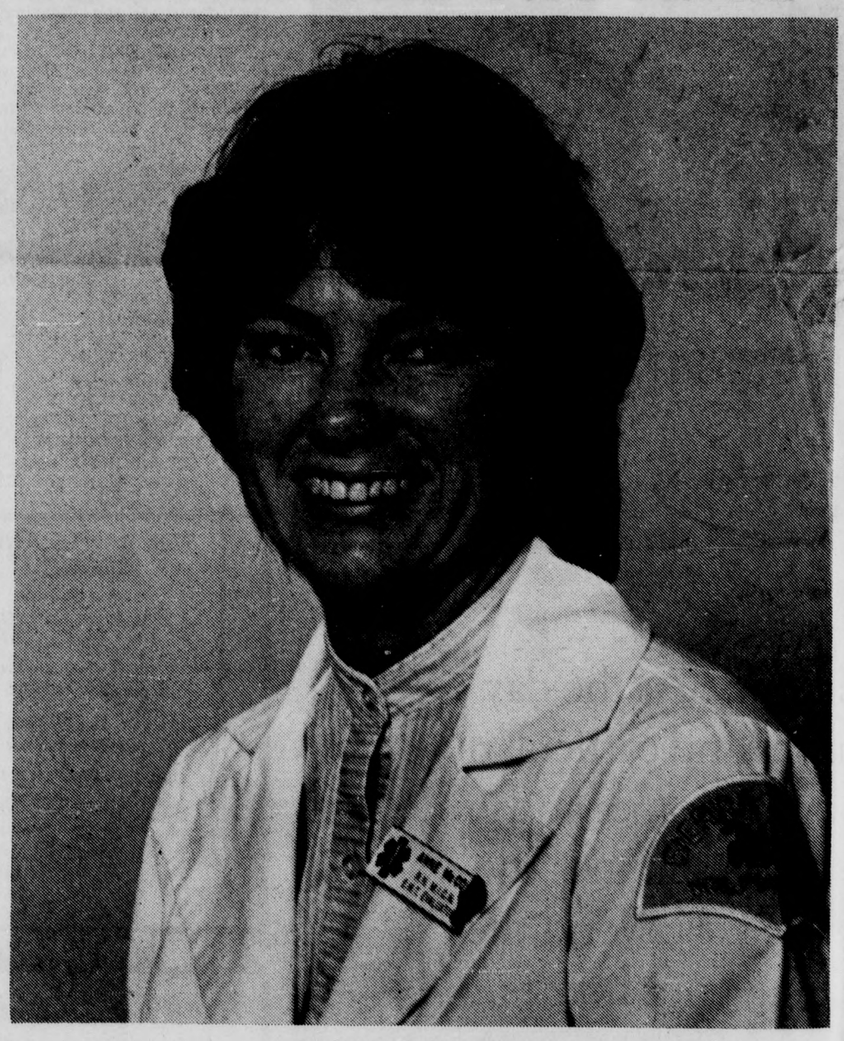

First, and most obvious, one's conclusions may be wrong, in which case presentation of the opposing view should lead to the correct conclusions.

— CT —

Second, any given individual's views on a matter generally contain only a portion of the truth; the

NURSE-INSTRUCTOR AIDS OUR MEDICAL PROGRAM

ANN MC COY, R.N. (M.I.C.N.)
S.M.F.D. Medical Team Evaluator

Ann McCoy, MICN, Evaluates and Trains Local EMT's Of Fire Dept.

By Robert Duer,
Staff Writer

Ann McCoy, R.N., the lady in white you may have seen at some of our Fire Department's medical emergencies, donates her time and experience to the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department's Medical Team and to the citizens served by them.

She functions in the capacity of Emergency Medical Technician Evaluator. In this non - compensated position and without being a member of the Fire Department, Ann evaluates the performanc of each of the members of the Medical Teams and of the team as a whole, from a third party view point.

Ann is a registered nurse graduate of Pasadena City College, who is about to complete her Bachelor of Science Degree through New York State University.

Ann tells us that she wanted to be a nurse as far back as she can remember. This desire may come from the fact that her father manufactured a line of medical equipment when she was a child and conversation about many types of medical problems was something that she was often exposed to. At one time in her early years, she recalls, she found a dead rodent which she proceeded to smuggle into her room for dissecting and later hopefully stuffing. Try as she would with perfume and such she could not keep her mother from locating her specimen and soon out it went without fanfare or any contribution to medical science.

Ann was born and raised in Pasadena where in 1963 she became a nurse's aide. She graduated from Pasadena City College as a Registered Nurse in 1969. After graduation she worked at Santa Teresita Hospital in Duarte where she studied and earned her Mobile Intensive Care Nurse (MICN) rating in 1974. An MICN operates the hospital Emergency Room Biocom radio, (like Dixie McCall in the T.V. series "Emergency"). In this capacity she is the paramedic's link with the hospital while they are performing their emergency task in the field. She can prescribe medication, defibrillation, etc. for a patient under the care of a paramedical team. All this in additon to all the normal functon of an Emergency Room nurse. At the present time Ann is working in the Emergency Room of Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena.

Ann's parents, George and Mary Cherry now live at Lake San Marcus. She has a brother who is a probation officer in San Francisco. Ann has two fine children, a son, Mike 16 and a daughter Stephanie 13. She has lived in Sierra Madre for only 13½ months so it didn't take her long to become involved in the community. Ann spends as much of her time off as she can jet skiing on both fresh water lakes and the ocean.

In January of 1979 Ann started teaching the Emergency Medical Technician I courses at Citrus College in Glendora, where she has graduated four EMT-1's

Vandalism At Garduno's Taco

Vandalism was caused at Garduno's Taco King and Mexican Restaurant, 44 No. Baldwin during the past week when parties or party unknown tossed a total of some five large objects through the front windows of the business.

Just recently the management started the "Pinball" game movement in their establishment, and it could have been someone discouraged over the process of the games or not being allowed to participate. Besides a

Fashion Show Luncheon & September 25

The Sierra Madre Community Hospital Auxiliary invites one and all to attend their Salad Luncheon and Fashion Show to be held on Thursday, September 25, 11 a.m., at the Sierra Madre Recreation Center. Tickets are $4.50 each. Louise Corp, general chairman of the affair, an annual event for the Auxiliary, promises to be a delightful day.

Proceeds benefit the Birthing Center, special activities for Extended Care patients and a major project for the Hospital, to be announced later. Louise will be assisted in setting up the party by none other than the Mayor of Sierra Made, her husband, Charles Corp.

The ticket of admission has a Bingo card on the reverse side. Bingo will be played and this card is a free one for the first game. These were cleverly designed by Mary Buchan, Auxiliary's Graphic Arts chairman.

An exciting line of fashions to set your mood for fall will be presented by Helen Porter with Auxiliary members modeling.

So do plan to join the Auxiliary on this special day. Invite your husbands too or that very special beau. Auxiliary members will be happy to provide tickets or call or drop into Imperial Savings, 355-3511 and see Dori Osterman or call Louise, 355-1366.

Rose Bowl Game Ticket Drawing Starts Sept. 15th

As the collegiate football season kicks off, so does the annual Rose Bowl Ticket Drawing for 3,500 public sale seats to the 67th New Year's Day classic.

Entries must be postmarked between September 15 and October 15 to be eligible for the 1981 New Year's Day event.

This is the only public sale of tickets for the annual Rose Bowl games which matches teams of the Big Ten and Pacific-10 football conferences on January 1.

The "Granddaddy of All Bowl Games" always produces exciting sellout crowds.

Here's how to enter the ticket drawing: Write your name and address on a postcard and mail it to Rose Bowl Ticket Drawing, P.O. Box 1800, Pasadena,, CA 91109. Remember, postcards must be postmarked between September 15 and October 15.

Entries are limited to one per family.

Shortly after the October 15 closing date, winning cards wil be drawn at ran-

Job's Daughters List Activities

Sierra Madre Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 308, had their first meeting of the new term on September 10, with their Deputy, Mrs. Valeria Mecham giving instructions to the new officers.

Karen Harlan, Honored Queen, conducted the meeting. Paula Klingbail, Junior Princess, was in charge of the refreshments.

The girls took part in the convention at San Francisco this summer, along with some 9,000 other Job's Daughters. They also went to Catalina Island this summer.

The group is now getting ready for their Fall Dinner and Boutique on October 19.

Trustee Sales Should Be Advertised In Local Paper

Notices of trustee sales appear frequently in the Sierra Madre News. They advertise that real estate will be sold at public auction and are required by California law.

In California an owner can use real property (land, land and buildings) as security for a loan. The owner gives the lender, usually a bank or a savings and loan company, sometimes a contractor who is making improvements to the land or structures, a deed of trust. This is recorded in the county recorder's office for public record.

The deed of trust gives the lender power to order the trustee (a selected third party) to sell the property described in the deed of trust should the property owner-borrower fail to pay the loan or contract.

The sale must be public, and the highest bidder gets the property. The income from the sale is used to pay off the lender and funds left over go to the property owner.

The more bidders the better the chance for a high bid, and the legislature requires that before the sale the trustees publish a notice of sale once a week for at least 20 days, in an adjudicated newspaper published in the county.

The notice of sale also notifies the borrower, in case he is not knowledgeable and is unaware of the jeopardy in which he has placed his property. Friends and neighbors can be expected to help ensure that he actually gets notice.

The California legislature was informed in 1979 that sharp dealing persons were making home improvement loans of questionable value that homeowners could ill afford. When they failed to pay, the contractor ordered the trustee to sell the home. If no bidders appeared the lender bought the property for the unpaid amount of his bill, leaving nothing for the home owner. With home values increasing rapidly this meant the foreclosing contractor got the property well below market value.

To protect the homeowner's equity by interesting more bidders the legislature passed a law that when a home was to be sold that an additional publication of the notice of trustee sale must be made in the largest paid circulation newspaper in the county.

Trustees objected to the added advertising cost and title companies objected to increased title insurance problems. Assemblyman Fenton, author of the original legislation, introduced AB 2475, removing requirement for publication in the largest paid circulation newspaper.

Advertising real estate sales is a job newspapers do exceptionally well. Providing the best possible price to the owner of a home foreclosed under a deed of trust depends upon wide advertising in the community where the home is located. Advertising costs are low in relationship to the value of property, and even more importantly, notices of trustee sales protect the property rights of owners, he said.

The Sierra Madre News is an adjudicated newspaper and qualified to publish public notices. To facilitate the use of the Sierra Madre

City Council Pays Its Current Bills

Sierra Madre Councilman Carl Griffin received the Warrant Register prior to the regular City Council meeting called for September 10 had this to report to his fellow Councilmen:

"I have checked the Warrant Register with the bilings and find that all items are either budgeted items or those approved by the Council as a whole. I have found that all billings have been properly discounted and I hereby make the motion that Resolution No. 80-68, in the amount of $87,480.24, be approved as presented." The motion received a second and was approved and the Resolution was adopted.

The finance officer was instructed to prepare the necessary warrants, have them signed by the City Administrator, the Mayor and the City Treasurer and have them dispatched to the various creditors.

William Wark Given Final Rites Thurs.

The Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge, No. 408, held services at Ripple Mortuary on Thursday, September 4, at the hour of 2 p.m. for William James Wark, age 65, who passed away suddenly while surfing on Ventura Beaches. Although taken to St. Johns Hospital in Oxnard he was pronounced dead on arrival.

William lived at 177 Merrill avenue, was a retired warehouse superintendent for Lever Brothers Company and came to our city many, many years ago from the Dominion of Canada.

In passing this life he leaves his wife Betty E. of the home address; one daughter, Carol Trump of Wilsonville, Oregon, one son Stephen J. Wark of Ventura and two sisters, Dorothy Poissant of Woodland, Wash. and Mary Starr of Oxnard, Calif. Also two grandchildren.

Committal was private at Pasadena Mausoleum with Ripple Motuary in charge of all arrangements.

Wark was a professional wrestler for 17 years following his graduation from Muir High School, where he was a high school wrestling champion. He was a featured wrestler at the Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles for many years. Six years ago he suffered a heart attack but recovered and returner to Lever Brothers, working part-time until retirement.

In 1967 he won the first Citizen of the Year award in Sierra Madre and was instrumental in having the Mount Wilson Trail approved as a wilderness area.

Gossip Te Gossip

By the Three Meanies and a Stooge
Plus A Weed

It really is a great mystery to us . . . and to a couple of Councilmen also, that on the report of Happenings of a daily newspaper that Sierra Madre is always reported as "No Crime reported."

A couple of weeks ago we had an armed robbery; in fact two of them, one at a business and one in residential . . . we had a break-in and attempt burglary at a local business, and a major break-in and attempted burglary at one of our schools . . . Still no crimes reported.

Chief Betts told the City Council that the reporters of the Star News were really not interested in that type of crime and still did not report it; however, for other cities we find reports of $2 burglaries, purse snatches and ten thousand other things.

In talking with one that should be in the know . . . it was stated that upon calling the dispatcher of the local police department her stock answer is always nothing to report . . . Personally I think the Chief should check into his reporting staff. Sierra Madreans should know what is going on.

In the burglary at 11 and 13 Kersting Court, there were several things that some of us just couldn't understand . . . one was the red "Notification" card that was tacked on the door of this business establishment by the Police Department.

The note said in part . . . you have been broken into sometime between the hours of so and so and this note at 4:30 . . . List what may have been stolen anr call the Police Department . . . and the door was left as is for anyone else that might want to enter and cart away what was left.

The owner was not notified . . . Police claiming no emergency number on file . . . but the information service of the telephone company had the listing . . . The landlord was not notified . . . . God only knows why . . . but the employees found the door unlocked wnen they arrived at approximately 8 a.m. . . .three and a half hours after notice by your local police . . . the second or following shift of the Police came down and looked things over around 9:30 and as they stated got some mighty interesting fingerprints . . . Maybe the other shift was not qualified to do this sort of thing? ? ?

We all "Thank Them" for putting the note on the door, it did help to clear up what could have been a complete mystery.

Whether this column will continue or not is also a mystery . . . As you know from the front page one of the meanies will soon be missing, or is it the stooge or the weed . . . We are wondering if the new publishers have the guts, and it will not take too long to find out.

A new Singles Discussion Group will be conducted by Buena Vista Counseling and Learning Center, 1235 Buena Vista, Duarte, 357-5246, Friday, September 19 led by Joan Rogers, M.A. Admission $5.

Why give your appliances the afternoon off?

A.

The chart tells the story. As the day grows hotter, appliances and particularly air conditioners go on in homes and offices and factories. This summer the electric load will soar, far beyond the regular load supplying your homes and businesses in cooler periods. You can help lighten this load, put off building costly new generating plants and help keep electric bills down by not using your major home appliances during afternoon hours, when demand peaks. So please, give your appliances the afternoon off.

Normal use of home appliances, coupled with increased use of air conditioners in hot weather, causes demand for electricity to increase dramatically.

Letters To the Editor

Dear Editor:

Are you confused about the Equal Rights Amendment? Ms. Gloria Steinem, chief drum-beater for the ERA, reveals the fradulent nature of the scheme in these revolutionary statements. In 1974, she was quoted as saying: "The overthrow of Capitalism is too small a task for us. We want to get rid of the whole *ing patriarchy." And recently: "The lawful and peaceful stage of our revolution may be over. It's up to the legislators. We can become radical, if they force us. If they continue to interfere with the ratification of ERA, they will find every form of disobedience possible in every state of the country."

ERA backers claim to be fighting the Establishment. But innumerable federal laws, such as the 1963 Equal Pay Act, the 1964 Civil Rights Act, and the 1974 Housing Act, etc., have already made the change they say they want.

Furthermore, the amendment says nothing about women. It reads thusly: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex." Such language could have countless interpretations.

It is important to fully realize what the late Dean Clarence Manoin, a respected constitutional authority has said about ERA: "What would be protected by ERA would be the unlimited right of men, women and children to be as sexual as each or any of them please . . . . Thus the ERA would not be a protection merely for the rights of women. It would be a protection for abortional murder and all forms of degeneracy." The possibilities contained in this Pandora's Box for the "lawful" destruction of our civilization are endless!

If you have distrusted the Equal Rights Amendment, even without its long, ugly history and its evil implications, it probably means you are smarter than your neighbor.

— Elizabeth Molengraft

The comrades of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are a very concerned organization, especially with our children's future. Most of the VFW branches raised a fund for the children. They used that fund to build a very unique orphanage in Eatoi. Rapids, Michigan. It consists of 51 buildings. The orphanage buildings are many homes, a hospital, chapel, guest lodge, library, guidance center, nursery, etc. . . . and now our very own branch has donated a crib to our neighboring hospital, Arcadia Methodist. We all should be very proud of our fellow Sierra Madreans of the VFW Post No. 3298, located at 40 E. Montecito Avenue, Sierra Madre.

Dear Editor:

Open leter to the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department:

A belated but loving thank you to all of our Sierra Madre Firemen for their loving interest and care during and after John's unexpected surgery last May.

My being sick at the same time was extremely frustrating to me.

However, friends were everywhere and they were willing to do everything. In that respect it was an overwhelming and gratifying experience..

Both John and I will always remember the generous response.

John will be 20 years in the SMVFD in 1981. We both treasure many recollections. Some sad but mostly glad and some of the zaniest and most wonderful moments ever!

From now on "Mother's Day," will also be the anniversary of John's surgery. That memory, for me, will always be tempered by another — A "breathtakingly" beautiful floral creation and a card which read: "To Jane, — Happy Mother's Day — from John — by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Dept."

Can't help but love you guys!

— Jane Buchan

Cactus - Succulent Show Sept. 13 - 14

The durable cactus and succulents will be on display at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia when the San Gabriel Valley Cactus and Succulent Society holds its annual show September 13 and 14. The show is free; admission to the Arboretum is $1 for adults and 50 cents for those 5 - 17 years of age, senior citizens over age 62, and adult students with ID cards.

The theme of this year's show is "Welcome to our World of Cacti."

Participants in the exhibits, mainly from the San Gabriel Valley will enter their cacti in six divisions: cacti, other succulents, arrangements, educational displays, photography, and individual displays based on a particular theme.

In addition to the sale, books and pamphlets will be available as well as cactus plants for the serious collector.

Chartered in 1960, the San Gabriel Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will celebrate the beginning of its third decade at its open dinner meeting Thursday, September 18, 7 p.m., at Lord Charlevs, 100 North Santa Anita Avenue in Arcadia.

Memorial Services For Ella Poland

Memorial services were held on Friday, September 5 at the hour of 11 a.m. at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel for Ella Meta Poland, age 80, who passed away unexpectedly on August 31 at her home at 361 West Orange Grove.

She was a housewife, coming to California some ten years ago from Germany, and lived in our community for the past seven years.

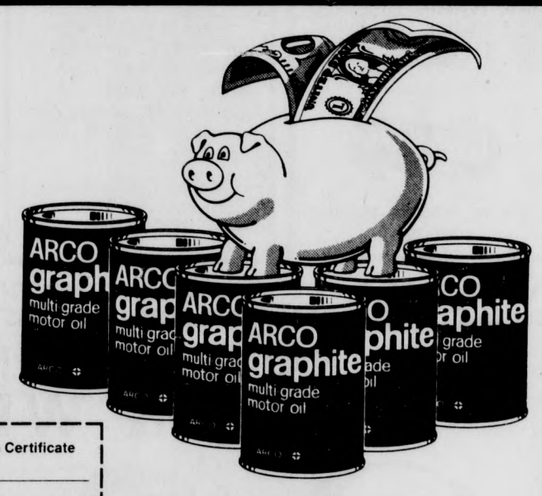

In passing this life she leaves a daughter Eleanor E. P. Nygaard of this community, one son Richard Poland of Plainsfield, N.J., and two sisters, Louise Hartkoff of Bloomington, N.J. and Henrietta Boerner of Summit, N.J., also seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Rev. Richard J. Anderson was in charge with inurnment in Lake Nelson, New Jersey. Ripple Mortuary of Sierra Madre handled the arrangements.

Buy 6 quarts cash & carry or a minimum of 4 quarts with an oil change of ARCOgraphite® 10W-40 Motor Oil or ARCO GT 20W-50 with graphite and get a $2 refund from ARCO.
$2 REFUND FROM ARCO.

Four Simple Steps To Get Your $2.00 Refund.
1. Buy 6 quarts cash & carry or a minimum of 4 quarts with an oil change of ARCOgraphite 10W-40 Motor Oil or ARCO GT 20W-50 Motor Oil with graphite at your participating retailer. Make sure you get a store receipt showing date of purchase. Circle the price of the motor oil purchased.
2. Remove the Universal Product Code (the yellow square with vertical black lines underneath) from the sides of 4 empty ARCOgraphite cans or Easy Pour bottles or ARCO GT 20W-50 Motor Oil with graphite. To remove a Universal Product Code from an empty can, cut around it carefully with a single edge razor blade. In the case of the empty bottle, remove it completely. If you purchase a 6-pack, you may use the Universal Product Code from the bottom of the box only. Caution: UPC codes should be removed from empty containers only.
3. Complete the certificate (please print carefully).
4. Mail the certificate, the store receipt and the Universal Product Code(s) to:

Mexican Restaurant they do serve beer and wine and these have regulations for juveniles. At least three of the large windows will have to be raplaced and this will be very expensive as glass of this type must be shatterproof glass.

This type of action, together with break-ins seem to be on the increase in the cities throughout the San Gabriel Valley. The Shell Station at the corner of Baldwin and Montecito was also subject to rock throwing and vandalism at the same time.

CALL AN EXPERT

from the Sierar Madre Fire Department and one Reserve Officer from the Sierra Madre Police Department. She noted the Sierra Madre group were all in the top ten of the class.

Early this summer she conducted a EMT-1 Refresher Course, which all EMT's are required to take every two years. This class was held at the City Hall and included Fire, Police and Search and Rescue personnel. This was a Pasadena City College course which included personnel from other cities and again the two top grades were earned by Sierra Madre EMT's.

It was about January of this year when Ann became involved as our Medical Evaluator and started responding to our medical emergency calls. Ann does not take an active part in the medical work of the EMT crew, except to fill a gap here and there if it is expeditious to patient care. Her basic role remains as an evaluator. On about ten per cent of the runs to the hospital during the year, Ann will ride along to observe transportation procedures, so that she can do a complete overview. She makes her reports to Captain George Maurer at which time she makes recommendations for any improvements in individual's performance as well as the team as a whole.

An important part of her task is to keep the team advised of any updating of techniques that can improve the team's effectiveness or any changes in the law relavent to emergency treatment in the field.

Ann rates the Sierra Madre Fire Department EMT's as "excellent," and this is not just from an observer's view point. Ann had the misfortune to require emergency medical service not too long ago, after a bad fall in her home. She felt that she could not have received better care anywhere.

I think I can speak for the community by saying welcome to Ann McCoy and thank you for being a consciencious citizen willing to put sometning constructive into our city that can benefit everyone.

Thank you, Ann.

Dana Franco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Franco of Rosemead, received her bachelor of science degree in nursing from Mount St. Mary's College on May 25.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST 1980

Pursuant to Sections 3381 through 3385, Revenue and Taxation Code, the Published Delinquent List in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California, has been divided and distributed to various newspapers of general circulation published in said County, for publication of a portion thereof in each of said newspapers.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST 1980

Delinquent tax list in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

I, H. B. Alvord, Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, being first duly sworn on oath, say to the best of my knowledge and belief, that the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the year 1979 for the fiscal year 1979-80 were unpaid at 5 o'clock p.m., June 30, 1980 on the real property shown in the attached list.

This property, except that portion previously sold to the State and not redeemed, was by operation of law sold to the State of California on June 30, 1980.

The amount shown in dollars and cents opposite the description of the property is the amount for which it was sold to the State. Such real property may be redeemed by the payment of the amount of sold taxes together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption at the office of the Tax Collector at 225 North Hill Street, Los Angeles, California 90012.

The name which precedes each parcel number refers to the name of the assessee. Where no name appears, the name is the same as that of the last assessee above shown.

Dated the first day of September, 1980.

H. B. ALVORD
Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Taxpayers who have disposed of real property since March 1, 1979, may find their names listed for the reason that present owners have failed to pay taxes, and according to the law, the name appearing on the 1979-80 roll must be advertised.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, SS.

I, H. B. ALVORD, Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, being first duly sworn on oath, say to be the best of my knowledge and belief, that the taxes not marked "PAID" have not been paid.

Confusion On Tax Burden For Buyer

There is still a great deal of confusion about how to prorate taxes between buyer and seller, due to the enormous changes in tax procedures caused by Proposition 13. In many instances, a proration agreed to by buyer and seller turns out to be inaccurate.

Last year's tax bill is not necessarily the basis for this year's tax bill.

Escrow officers and brokers will be doing their clients a tremendous service, and protecting the interest of both buyer and seller, if they pose two simple questions at the start of the transaction:

(1) Did the current seller purchase the property between March 1, 1979 and February 29, 1980 (the lien year for taxes to be levied for July 1, 1980 - June 30, 1981)?

(2) Did new construction take place on the property between March 1, 1979 and February 29, 1980?

It is also important to remember that even if the proration is being done after the November tax bill has been received, there is still the possibility of a supplemental tax bill. The Assessor's Office has the duty to find and enroll all transfers and new construction which occurred during the lien year, and may do so at any time. So ask the same questions.

If there is a "yes" answer to either one, the prorator will have a better perspective on tax impact, if he or she understands these examples:

Recent Sale — Seller says his last year's tax bill was for $537. Seller further says that he purchased the property subsequent to March 1, 1979. If the proration between seller and buyer is based on $537, the buyer is going to overpay taxes, and the seller escapes his rightful share of the burden. We suggest this:

Ask the seller what he paid for the property. Estimate that 1¼ per cent of that price will be the tax for July 1, 1980 through June 30, 1981.

For instance, the seller says he paid $100,000 for the property. 1¼ per cent of this is $1,250. Ask the seller if he or she had a homeowner's exemption. If so, deduct $88 (this deduction is standard for all properties, regardless of value) from $1,250 and make the proration between the seller and the new buyer on the basis of $1,162 tax burden.

This will generally be most fair to both parties. On the other hand, if the current taxes of $537 are prorated, there will be an understandably unhappy buyer some months in the future.

Recent Construction — Seller says he has owned the propery for ten year, and current taxes are $800, but that he recently made an addition to the poperty. Ask him how much this construction cost. Estimate 1¼ per cent of that cost will be added to current taxes for July 1, 1980 through June 30, 1981.

For instance, suppose the seller paid $20,000 for the addition. 1¼ per cent of this is $250. Add the amount to current taxes. The result, $1,050, should be the basis of the proration between the seller and buyer.

September 2nd Is Final Deadline

More than 416,000 senior citizens and disabled persons have claimed homeowner and renter assistance with the Franchise Tax Board since the beginning of the filing season on May 16.

Payments have been averaging $169 to renters and $103 to homeowners, according to Chief of Operations James Gentz.

The filing period formally ends September 2 but claimants may file late if they have reasonable cause, Gentz said. He pointed out that the Legislature has acted to extend the filing period in future years. "While it is possible to file a claim after September 2, the department is urging eligible homeowners and renters to send in their claims as soon as possible. Claims received now can be processed quickly," Gentz said.

Persons who were 62 as of December 31, 1979, or who were totally disabled or blind, regardless of age, may be eligible for assistance if their total household income is under $12,000 and their residence is on the county property tax roll.

Homeowners must occupy their residence on December 31, 1979, and renters must rent all or part of 1979 and pay at least $50 a month rent.

The once-a-year reimbursement is based on income with the maximum assistance going to the lowest income homeowners and renters. Assistance for renters ranges from a minimum $10 to a maximum $240 and assistance to homeowners ranges from four per cent to 96 per cent of the taxes paid on the first $8,500 assessed value of the home.

Claim forms may be obtained by writing Franchise Tax Board, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, CA 95807, or by calling the toll-free number listed for the Franchise Tax Board in the telephone directory.

License Plate Fees Given Distribution

State Controller Kenneth Cory reported distribution of $60,663,511 to cities and counties as the August apportionment of State-collected "in-lieu" motor vehicle license fees.

Cory reported Los Angeles County received $9,371,712 and the city of Sierra Madre received $20,779.

The distribution represents the cities and counties share of license fees and other revenue deposited in the Motor Vehicle License Fee Account during July of 1980.

Forced Conservation

Legislation to give the state Energy Commission vast powers to ensure compliance with energy conservation which will cost from $500 to $1,000 or more for each homeowner, is on the Senate floor. AB 3046 (Levine) requires, by 1985, all residences to be retro-fitted, including ceiling insulation, water heater insulation blankets, and shower-flow restrictors, etc. Cost of enforcement and associated administrative proceedings necessary to ensure compliance would become a lien against the property and the owner could not transfer the interest or sell the property until compliance is accomplished and such lien satisfied. The provision would not become effective unless tax credits or financing programs were provided for the purposes in the bill, but it mandates that the public utilities establish energy conservation financing programs by July 1981, which means it would require the public utilities to go into the loan business. Opponents say the state should not utilize the punitive philosophy of "big brother" and that state bureaucrats have no business pushing their way into private dwellings to ensure we all lead a more energy-efficient and tate-dsignated lifstyle.

State Supreme Court Ruling Opens Property Tax Troubles

The state Supreme Court has handed down a ruling that means that taxpayers in 22 counties will not get back one-half billiin dollars of contested property taxes paid in 1978-79 on 'unsecured" properties. Unsecured property taxes are taxes levied upon properties whose tax payment is not secured by real properties and includes business inventories, furniture, equipment, aircraft and leasehold interests.

The questio before the court was whether, for the 1978-79 year, Proposition 13's one per cent of value tax rate applied to unsecure properties. Proosition 13 was effective starting July 1, 1978, but a conflicting constitutional provision governing property tax rates states that the tax rate on unsecured properties shall be the tax rate applied on the previous year's secured tax roll. The court unanimously ruled August 14 that the prior year's pre-Proposition 13 secured tax rate applied.

Although the ruling applied only for the 1978-79 year, it left unsettled whether the remaining 36 counties which opted to levy the Proposition 13 tax rate on unsecured properties in 1978-79 may go back and make retroactive assessments. But, many of those counties' legal counsels immediately began examining that possibility. A retroactive assessment would approximately double unsecured property taxes a firm paid in 1978-79.

Attorney for the plaintiff, William Boggs of San Diego, called the decision political and said the ruling may be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court if it appears the ruling violates equal protection right "of those who are now being denied the tax limitation protection of Proposition 13."

The decision was in Board of Supervisors v. Tonergan, Auditor-Controller, & Jones, Treasurer-Tax Collector of the County of San Diego. The Supreme Court decision overturned two lower court rulings in favor of taxpayers.

Habitual Criminal Bill

A bill to provide a 15-year prison sentence for three-time convicted criminals was passed in the Senate before summer recess 39 to 0 with minor amendments. AB 3375 (McAlister), supported by the Chamber, faces an Assembly vote for concurrence in Senate amendments when the legislature reconvenes. McAlister's bill is the final product of three years of failure by the lgislature to pass a meaningful habitual criminal bill, last year's being AB 535 (Stirling), which died in Assembly Criminal Justice. AB 3375 differs from the earlier measures most significantly in the area of vunishment. Earlier habitual criminal bills, and two which died in Assembly Criminal Justice this year, provided mandatory prison sentences for career violent felons, something the Assembly Criminal Justice members and especially Chairman Bill McVittie (recently appointed to Superior Court judgeship in Los Angeles by Governor Edmund Brown, Jr.) would not accept.

McAlister's bill provides for judicial discretion, allowing a judge to shorten the sentence. It is hoped that public interest and concer about crime will have an influence on judges who in the past have shown habitual criminais undue leniency.

A bill clarifying that tax allocation revenues received by redevelopment agencies are exempt from spending limits was sent to the Assembly floor after a perfunctory hearing by Assembly Housing and Community Development.

SB 1972 (Campbell) gained Chamber support after it was amended in the Senate to limit the exemption from Gann spending limits only for bona fide redevelopment activities and to preclude use of these revenues to fund general government activities.

Vehicle Inspection

Vehicle inspection and maintenance, as required by the Clean Air Act. is still aiive in SB 1948 (Presley) and has moved to the Assembly floor. The proposal now calls for a decentralized (as contrasted to the Hamilton Test Centralized program operating in the South Coast Air Basin) inspection program with authority for design of the program given to the Secretary of Business and Transportotion: Fees to be poid by motrists are to be set by the secretary and sufficient to cover all program expenses.

These two portions of SB 1948 constitute the basis for the Chamber's opposition. The Chamber advocates that the specific terms of any I and M propram should be established by the legislature and that it should be cost-efectipe in providing discernible improvements in air quality.

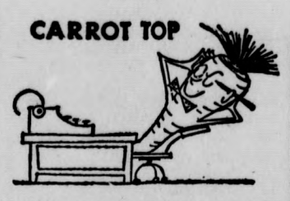

The Chamber has consistently stood without a position on the basic question of whether or not the state should have an I and M program. However, if such a program is set up, the legislature itself should accept responsibility for setting the terms.

While SB 1948 (as amended August 18) is much better in these respects than it was two weeks ago, it still delegates to the bureaucracw responsibility for "design" of the program and setting of the inspection fees.

Organized opposition to the bill appears to be evaporating fast. The auto clubs and Chamber now are the only major organizations in opposition. This could work out best after all. The issue has been debated at great length for two years. Now individual members of the legislature will have to vote on SB 1948 being guided by direct input from their constituents. The outcome is still in doubt, since recent polls have indicated strong voter disapproval of the idea of a California I and M program.

Many, many good points are brought out at the Planning and City Council meetings, some of them are beside the point, and have personal relations, but on the whole it is this interest that truly makes for finer government and better representation of the people concerned. If you have never attended any of these meeting, it would be well worth your time.

— CT —

Americans have a ready solution for every problem which confronts us: Pass another law. We heap law upon law, and each new statute seems to dare us to defy it or find a way of evading it.

— CT —

We spend more money to pass laws, and more money to break the laws we pass, than any nation in the world. And we think that the only way to correct all this is to pass another law. The something that makes laws work is definitely missing.

— CT —

We have become so involved in legality that morality is forgotten. And the result is more and more laws in a vain effort to keep us from being inhuman to each other. This is not progress.

— CT —

The alternative is obvious; a new concern for the moral laws which, if observed, would eliminate the need for much present-day legislation while permitting the remainder to be almost self-enforcing. This should be mankind's next moral advance.

— CT —

The Supreme Court has now made it abundantly clear that, in an age when we are invited to look to Uncle Sam for everything from a safety pin for baby to an aspirin for grandma, we cannot look to government to teach us morality and religion. This task is squarely up to the Churches, the home, and we as individuals. The past, if we let it can teach us the important lessons for our guidance into the future . . . and I think you can clearly see what I mean, by just looking around you.

It seemed that only yesterday morning we were pounding the counter and trying to think about presents for Christmas, and now this morning we are in the throes of thinking about Labor Day . . . . "Mom, how can you get so upset about drugs when you really don't know a thing about them?"

If you're having a little trouble these days getting through to your kids when you try to discuss illegal drug use, it may be because they know a lot more than you do about the subject.

We can't promise to make you an expert, but we can help you to catch up a little. Here are a few facts to talk from:

1. Marihuana:

Conviction, even with a suspended sentence, may cause interruption of education, difficulty in obtaining a driver's license in some states, entering a profession, getting a responsible job. While marihuana, which is not a narcotic, does not cause physical dependence, it may lead to "psychological dependence" if taken regularly. There is no current conclusive evidence that marihuana is "medically safe." Research is currently being conducted to find out more about its physical and psychological effects.

2. LSD:

Its effects can differ at times in the same individual. There is no way of predicting whether a "trip" will be "good" or "bad." And days, weeks, even months after using LSD, the things the user experienced while on the drug may recur unexpectedly. The LSD experience can sometimes be disturbing enough to cause acute and even long-lasting mental illness.

3. "Ups and Downs":

Excessive use of amphetamines ("ups") can drive a person beyond his physical endurance and leave him totally depleted physically, since he feels like neither eating nor sleeping. The body develops a tolerance to these drugs, with larger and larger doses required to feel the effects. Long-term heavy users are usually irritable, unstable, and may suffer social, intellectual, and emotional breakdown. Abrupt withdrawal ("crashing") for the heavy user can result in a deep and suicidal depression.

Barbiturates ("downs") can, in regular and excessive doses, become physically addicting. Overdose, or abrupt withdrawal for a heavy user, can cause death. Barbiturates are a leading cause of accidental poison deaths in the U.S. Amphetamines are sometimes prescribed as "diet pills," and barbiturates are given as prescription sleeping pills, but neither should be taken except in strict accordance with a physician's prescription.

4. Narcotics:

Heroin is physically, as well as psychologically addicting. Large, or unexpectedly unadulterated doses can result in death. The addict's main object in life becomes getting the drug. He may turn to crime as the only way to get enough money to support his habit (which can run as high as $100.00 per day).

The old hotel building in the business block on North Baldwin avenue, is now being remodeled by Dr. G. W. Groth and soon the upper floor will house six modern apartments. Work will also start soon on a new stucco front to replace the old and yellow wooden one, according to Dr. Groth. The rear of the building has already been reconstructed and new plumbing and wiring has been added. Within the past year Dr. Groth has built the two stores that occupy the ground floor and has been carrying on preliminary work toward opening the apartments. The new stucco front will be of Spanish design to harmonize with the adjoining buildngs.

The new Santa Anita Highway now under construction by the Los Angeles County Road Department was officially inspected Monday by C. P. Collins, resident engineer. The road has now progressed to a point directly above the Santa Anita dam, two miles from where construction started at Double Drive and Grand View avenue a year ago. When completed the project will extend to Winter Creek, about a mile above Robert's Camp, and eventually will connect with the road being built through from the desert side of the range to the Arroyo Seco to form a continuous highway from the desert to the sea.

Women Ought To Know

My neighbor has just admitted to me that her husband beats her. She says ehat the beatings are getting worse and more frequent, bust she doesn't know what to do or where to go. What can I tell her?

— J. G., Santa Clara

Answer:

First, help your neighbor realize that she is not alone in her situation and not to blame. According to FBI statistics, a battering happens every 18 seconds in this country. The same figures indicate that incidents of woman battering are even more numerous and less often reported than rapes, and it is widely known that only one in ten rapes is ever reported. Women from all social and economic levels of our society are victims of violent beatings by their husbands or male partners. It is estimated tha 50 per cent of all marred women in California will be assauled by their husbands at some time in the relationship.

Unfortunately, most of the victims of domestic violence, such as your neighbor, suffer in silence. They stay in a nightmarish situations for a variety of complex emotional and economic reasons. But in California, it is a crime for any person to beat or sexually assault another person, and there are alternatives open to the woman who seeks them.

If your neighbor is threatened or beaten again, she should call the police immediately. When the police arrive, she should insist on filing a police report, whether or not her husband is arrested or she presses charges against him. She should be aware that even if he is arrested, he will probably be released in a matter of hours.

The best source of help is a shelter for battered women. The location of such shelters is usually a closely guarded secret, to protect the women who take refuge there. Shelter staff will provide counseling and guidance on alternatives for her next step, as well as emotional support in a time of crsis.

In your area, the San Jose Women's Alliance has a 24 hour hotline at (408) 279-2962. The Santa Clara County Commission on the Status of Women at (408) 299-3131 can also help with referrals to a number of sources of assistance. The California Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General, publishes an excellent "Handbook On Domestic Violence" which includes a chapter on emergency services for victims The handbook is available without charge by writing the Public Inquiry Unit, 555 Capitol Mall, Suite 290, Sacramento, CA 95814. The California Commission on the Status of Women (see address below) can send you a list of women's shelters throughout the state.

The California Commission on the Status of Women responds to queries about the changing status of California women. Persons wishing information may write to Betty Stephens, chairman, California Commission on the Status of Women, 926 J Street, Room 1506, Cacramento, CA 95814.

The Pasadena Ballet Association (a non-profit organization) will hold auditions for membership in the Pasadena Dance Theatre on September 6 at the Assumption School Gymnasium, 2640 E. Orange Grove Blvd. Dancers will be cast for the annual winter concert to be held in December.

Legal NOTICE

DID YOUR FICTITIOUS NAME STATEMENT EXPIRE IN 1979?

As a service to local businesses, this newspaper will make available at no charge, all necessary forms for refiling and we will refile your 1980 statement with the County Clerk, also at no charge. Bring a copy of your 1974 Fictitious Business Name Statement to our office. Our public notice department will assist you in completing the new form and will forward it to the County Clerk via our representative in the Los Angeles Civic Center. If you have misplaced your 1974 statement, we will arrange for a search of the County Clerk's file to extract information which must be transferred to the 1980 form and to detemine whether republication will be necessary.

The Cost

The County Clerk's statutory refiling fee is $15.00. If publication is necessary, our advertising charge is $30.00. If there is no publication, your cost is only $15.00. If you want us to handle filing for you, please bring us your $15.00 check made payable to "Los Angeles County Clerk." Our forms and filing services are free, as explained above. If the records need to be searched there is a $2.00 charge.

All Fictitious Business Name Statements filed or refiled during the year 1974 will expire on December 31, 1979. If you filed your statement during 1974, California law requires you to prepare a new statement and file it with the County Clerk before December 31, 1980. If the information in your new statement is different from the information which was in your 1974 statement, the law also requires that the new statement be published in a legally qualified newspaper. The law provides that "the newspaper selected for the publication of the statement should be one that circulates in the area where the business is to be conducted." (Sec. 17917 — Business and Professions Code)

— CT —

"Are you kidding?" said the puzzled employer. "You've been in this country for the last ten years." "Yes, yes, me know," explained the Oriental, "But me got vely good fliend in China."

— CT —

All this cigarette talk has gotten me scared plum-to-death . . . Take for instance what the man said the other day on television . . . every cigarete you smoke cost you 14 seconds of your life.

— CT —

This not only started me to thinking . . . but it certainly started me to figuring . . . and as the old saying goes . . . liars sure can figure . . . but figures do not lie.

— CT —

If these figures are correct I have lost about 860 days of my life during the past 61 years.

— CT —

Now here is where it gets me where it hurts . . . If I would have been going to live until I was 78 years old, I would have passed away on January 17.

— CT —

If I was going to live to be an even hundred years old I will die January 31, 1981 . . . but the disturbing fact, and maybe one that at last I have found out what in the world is the matter with me is . . . .

— CT —

If I was going to die at the age of 68, and being the cigarette smoker that I am . . . Then I have been dead for the past six years and even my best friends haven't told me.

— CT —

Anyway I suppose that most of us will keep right on puffing on the weeds, and do as the experimental experts say, try our best to keep the younger generation away from the dangers of cigarette smoking . . . I know my father and mother tried their best to give me the word, but I was much smarter than they were and I soon got hooked.

— CT —

This week in closing the column let me ask you a question . . . . "Why is it everyone wants to be at the front of the bus, the back of the church or the middle of the road?" Maybe Mayor Corp can answer this one. He is always requesting the people to come from the back of the Council Chamber if they want to hear or be heard . . . . See you around, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Storm Drain Bond Sale Takes Place

County supervisors have authorized the sale of an additional $1.4 million of 1964 and $18 million of 1970 storm drain bonds, Supervisor Baxter Ward reported recently.

Bids on the 1964 bonds are to be received as soon as psssible. Target date for bids on the 1970 bonds has been set for October 7.

There have been 23 previous sales of 1964 bonds totaling $264,150,000 out of a total authorized issue of $275 million. Out of a total authorization of $252 million in 1970 bonds, $225 million have been sold in 14 previous sales.

Proceeds from the upcoming sales, when added to the present cash balances remaining from previous offerings, will be sufficient to finance construction work on flood control projects until the fall of 1982, the supervisor added.

"Nature Notes"
By Sandor Junkunc

Some time ago I related to you how a rabbit found itself in an unfortunate predicament by becoming fearful of our car's headlights and runing head long — and getting stuck into — a chain link fence! I'm sure this is merely one case out of many in which animals living close to human habitation wind up either injured — or worse. This is Chapter Two: Hazards to Urban Wildlife.

While raking along the back side of our garage the other day, I noticed some soft shapes littering the ground. Bending over, I quickly recognized them as feathers. Probably those of a mourning dove by their color and markings.

Now, these feathers weren't here just by chance. Each day by our bird feeder many birds lose a feather or two or three merely in the act of taking off. No. these grayish feathers were here in a clump behind the garage, with a slender trail of smaller grayish feathers leading across the grass.

Living in our neighborhood are several cats. Knowing that a couple of these felines are notorious for being in our yard, I immediately suspected them! No actual proof . . . . just solid circumstantial evidence!

Even from my typewriter I can almost see the hair stand up on the backs of the necks of local cat owners. Yet, some years ago I, too, was a cat owner. And I still love cats. However, I also remember how proud our cat Chico was as she presented us with a dead bird, or mouse, or rat, or lizard on the back doorstep!

We were anything but happy. In fact we tried everything we could think of to get her to stop killing birds: scoldings, roled up newspapers. Even putting a special collar with a jingle-type bell on her. In that way the bell would scare away the birds. But she learned to creep up on the birds in such a way so that the jingle-type bell wouldn't ring and alert them! That's how smart cats are. In her lifetime I'm sure our cat took a terrible toll of neighborhood birds . . . . all to my chagrin! Yet, what I eventually understood was that it was instinct — INSTINCT — urging her on. I guess nothing short of being inhumane or ilieal is going to stop a pet cat from catching birds and mice.

In any event, from the birds' viewpoint, some of our pets may be the cat's meow . . . . but they're also a hazard! But I guess that's the price any wild animal pays when it lives near us humans!

can say,
"I own happiness
and PEACE of Mind
Freedom
From Evils
shall Remain
